OUR LOCAL OPTIC.

Epitome of Sayings and Doings, Wise and Otherwise, Run Down and Run in by omnipresent Ubiquitous, Local "Grand Rounds."

The ARGUS is sorry to chronicle the critical illness of Mr. F. L. Manly, at his home in this city, from a carbuncle.

It is a real pleasure to his many friends to greet Mr. I. B. Fonville on the street again, after his recent ordeal with pneumonia.

Messrs. Alvin Schwab and Jno. E. Hage have returned home from Charleston and were not pleased with the Exposition.

Mr. R. A. Watts, Jr., has returned from Kingstree, S. C., where he has been at work at his trade as a jeweler, and will again locate in Goldsboro.

Mrs. B. A. Morgan, of Greenville, S. C., nee Miss Jennie Rose, of Fayetteville, who is pleasantly remembered in this city, where she has many friends, is visiting Mrs. Dr. W. H. Cobb, Jr.

In the absence of Mayor Hood the city's executive chair is being occupied by Mr. Geo. C. Royall, whom the Board of Aldermen elected mayor pro tem for the term some months ago.

There is one other advantage in being a soldier besides sometimes having the privilege of securing an opportunity to die for one's country, and that is having leggings to wear when a deep snow comes.

The stockholders of the Bank of Wayne held their annual meeting at their banking house in this city, Tuesday for the election of officers, and resulted in the re-election of all the present incumbents.

And still the honors come to Goldsboro talent. Young Dr. George Kirby has just been elected assistant physician at the Ward Hospital, New York, which is the largest institution of its kind in the United States.

The price of cotton is now moving up towards 9 cents. The ARGUS told its farmer readers, all along, to hold their cotton; that it would be 8 cents in February, and our prediction has come true; although our advice was but sparsely followed.

Mayor Geo. E. Hood and Mr. W. L. Summerlin left Tuesday for Wilmington as delegates from Goldsboro Council to attend the meeting of the State Council Junior Order United American Mechanics.

The many friends here of Mr. Paul Hood, who has been quite sick for several days at his boarding house in Kinston, where he is employed in the telegraph service, will be glad to learn that he is now on the high road to convalescence.

The dray horse of Mr. W. H. Huggins became frightened Saturday afternoon while being driven to a brand new wagon-dray, by Mr. Hines, who clerks for Mr. Huggins, and ran against a tree and threw the wagon to pieces and threw Mr. Hines to the ground and bruised him up right badly.

The many friends of Mr. W. E. Jenkins in Goldsboro will deeply sympathize with him in the death of his mother, which occurred recently at the home of his brother, in Washington City. The remains were taken to Charleston, S. C., their old home, for interment in the family plot in the cemetery of that city.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system. Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." Mrs. Iza O. Brown, Ramford Falls, Md.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Mr. Walter Summerlin, at the corner of John and Walnut streets has opened up a full fledged harness and shoe-making establishment in the rear of his grocery, and opening on John street. He has Mr. John Rues in charge of the harness department and Crutchfield in the shoemaking department. We wish the enterprise a full measure of public patronage.

Mention was made some days ago in the ARGUS that the hardware store of Mr. W. H. Huggins had been entered by thieves at night and some razors and guns were missing. The police have been working on the case all the time, and they thought they had the right party in the person of Charlie Mackay, colored, who was arrested Wednesday and given a hearing, but he was discharged because the evidence was not sufficient to hold him.

A woman got her head knocked off with a snow ball thrown by a small boy on Monday, while the large crowd on the streets at the time displayed their savage instincts by laughing at the revolting performance. What made the scene more horrible, if possible, was that the head was crushed out of shape when it struck the brick pavement, because it was nothing but the head on the snow woman in front of the jewelry store of Mr. L. D. Giddens.

Peas—common "field peas"—are selling at $1.10 per bushel on this market, and sweet potatoes and peanuts at 80 cents per bushel. These, too, are products that grow on sandy land; so that, really, there is no excuse for the farmers of this section not being able to make money at farming. Peas, peanuts and potatoes would make Wayne county farmers wealthy if they would grow these crops and nothing else. And yet—well—what's the use of solicquizing?

It begins to look like business up on East Centre street north, where the new City Hall is to be located. All the old unsightly wooden buildings have been removed and the lot is being cleared of debris and gotten in order for building operations to begin—with the coming of the flowers that bloom in the spring. The passing of the Great Eastern, too, is worthy of note and exultation. It has long been an eyesore to progress, and that it is to be torn down and supplanted by modern brick business houses will be learned of with pleasure by the entire community. We go forward.

What more forceful argument in favor of a passenger depot for Goldsboro can there be introduced than the condition of the street where the trains stop today? If you, dear reader, have not been on the scene, you should go there and see the ladies get off in piles of snow two feet deep and then wade to the sidewalk through the slush which is several inches deep. It would be hard to imagine a scene more uncomfortable or disagreeable to the travelling public, and to the ladies especially. What shall we do about it? Shall we make an effort to relieve the present arrangement or shall we continue to deserve the ill-will of the traveling public.

The A. & N. C. R. R. is now offering a daily steamer service, both freight and passenger, north and south, that commends itself to the shippers of this city and to the traveling public. Steamer leaves Newbern for Elizabeth City at 6 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; and at 3 p. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays; and coming south, steamer leaves Elizabeth City for Newbern at 6 p. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays; and at 3 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. All steamers touch, going and coming at Roanoke Island and Oriental. Through tickets can be purchased to all points north over the A. & N. C. R. R. and this steamer line. This is the best service the A. & N. C. R. R. has ever yet offered and is very commendable in its aggressive administration.

Mrs. E. G. Hood, who is visiting her son Henry, in New York City, had a rather trying experience after reaching the metropolis. In her hurry to get off last week, she forgot to take the address of her son with her, and when she reached New York she was at a loss where to go. She telegraphed her husband to send her the address of her son and he misinterpreted the telegram. He thought that his wife was telegraphing the address for him to write to while she was there. Mrs. Hood had made up her mind to return home before seeing her boy. However, she attended church Sunday morning and was much surprised to have her son come in and sit down beside her. It is needless to add that the surprise brought great joy to both mother and son.

Col. Jno. R. Morris, the veteran Knight of the Grip, is in the city. He made his appearance on horseback Saturday morning in the snow, and Fitzhugh Lee, who is said to be the most graceful of men on horseback, will have to look to his laurels should Col. Morris decide to take to the horse as a means of locomotion. So statly did Col. Morris and his steed amble across the white expanse of snow that even the small boys playing snowball in the street, who are generally irrepressible and irrespective of whom they assail, were awed into statues of admiration as he passed by, and even if they thought of throwing a snowball the thought froze before it was communicated to the hand for action. Yes, the Colonel maintained his dignity in safety until he reached the National Bank, in front of which building, after picking out a deep place in the snow, for obvious reasons, he proceeded to dismount—Well, suffice it to say that he lost all his dignity in this trying ordeal and the small boys lost all their awe; in consequence of which Col. Morris sauntered on and safety in the bank and telephoned for his valet to come for the horse. This ended the interesting incident.

SHARING OF PROFITS.

Samuel M. Jones Talks of the Co-operative Spirit and His Hopes. Samuel M. Jones, mayor of Toledo, O., student, thinker and humanitarian, who sends a check representing 5 per cent of wages to each of his employees at Christmas and gives to each a copy of his breezy "Letters of Love and Labor," talks to them in Golden Rule park on almost every Sunday afternoon in summer or gets some other man of ideas to talk to them, conducts a kindergarten for the children in Golden Rule House, takes his work people on picnics up the river and sees that everybody has a week's vacation with pay, has an abiding faith in profit sharing as the first step in the economic revolution which is to bring the millennium nearer, says H. E. Armstrong in Ainslee's Magazine for February.

"Profit sharing," he said the other day over his own signature, "is a phase of co-operation, and, though there is not much of an outward manifestation, I believe that the co-operative spirit is growing throughout the country and the world. I believe that by the slow processes of growth and evolution after the slow lapse of years society is going to realize a perfect democracy in industry and the brotherly relations in life outlined in the history of the early Christians, where we are told that 'no man said that aught he possessed was his own, neither was there any among them that lacked, but distribution was made to each according as any had need.' I do not believe that there is to be an economic revolution or upheaval that will bring about a change from the present capitalist and profit getting system to a socialistic state of affairs—that is, I do not believe that the socialists will ever take forcible possession of land and the instruments of production," as they say, but through the growth of intelligence each man will come to see himself as a part of the whole and come to understand that only as he co-operates from that standpoint can he in any proper sense realize happiness.

"I believe that the trust movement is an indication of the growing spirit of co-operation, immoral in its primary aspect because it is inspired by the desire for bigger profits, but it is really religious in its results—that is, it eliminates waste. Its failure is found in the fact that it does not justly distribute the saving effected by the economy of combination. The next step, and the inevitable one, as I believe, is co-operation in the field of distribution that will involve the men who work with their hands as well as those who work with their heads."

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Of Long Standing, Said to Be Incurable, Completely

CURED

In Four Months

BY

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

Alderman Stubig Gratefully Tells

How This Wonderful Medicine

Cured Him of Bright's Disease.

"144 Roscoe Boulevard, Chicago, Oct. 19, 1900. Gentlemen: About two years ago I had one foot in the grave, as the saying goes, and life looked pretty black to me; the doctors called it Bright's disease. I would give all I had to be cured, but nothing seemed to do me much good until a neighbor recommended that I try Warner's Safe Cure. It was with but little hope that I tried it, but within two weeks my general health was improved, and in four months I was completely cured. I hardly dared to believe that such good fortune was mine, but I have not lost a meal nor had an ache or pain since. Words seem but poor to express my gratitude. Yours truly, H. M. STUBIG (Alderman, 27th Ward)."

Mr. William Flood, care Fifth Avenue Hotel, Louisville, Ky., says: “Your Peruna has completely cured me of that distressing disease, catarrh, which affected my head, nose, bronchial tubes, and, in fact, my whole system.”

“After using your splendid remedy according to your directions I am today a well man. I find Peruna to be the greatest family medicine ever discovered. I shall always keep a bottle of it on hand.
